GERMANS POUND ON TWO SIDES OF FRENCH LINES

Important Position Lost By French on Wednesday Give Germans Footing in Two Small Field Works.

French Submarine Sends Austrian Transport to the Bottom—Another Meeting of Entente Allies to Be Held in Paris.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, April 8.—The salient in French lines west of the Meuse, at the village of Bethincourt as sharp angle, is being pounded on sides by the Germans, who, in last drive, succeeded in making new dent in the line southwest Bethincourt.

The success was achieved near court village, the important position lost by the French on Wednesday, the Germans gaining a foot in two small field works between court and Hill No. 287, which south of the village.

On the other side of the salient there has been sharp fighting; according to Paris today, the battle here was with the French bested their adversaries in combat between Bethincourt and Chattancourt.

There has been little fighting elsewhere in the Verdun region. German grenade attack near Vaux was repulsed by the French, whose positions east of the town have been subjected to intense bombardment.

Austrian transport has been in the Adriatic by a French submarine. Paris announces officially.

There is no let up in submarine warfare.

Added to the list of vessels destroyed are the steamers Chantala of 1,400 tons, and Brauton, of 4,575 tons, and the schooner Clyde, of 1,000 tons.

All was submitted to the Dutch government, authorizing the calling of the recruits of the 1917 class should be deemed necessary.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR SUSSEX LOSS

(Associated Press Cable)

Berlin, April 8.—The German government is able to announce that no German submarine or warship was responsible for the explosion which damaged the British steamer Sussex.

The War Office announced today the capture of French positions more than two kilometers wide in the Verdun region west of the Meuse.

Toledo Car Operators and Owners Are Given Further Time to Get Together.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Toledo, April 8.—Captain John Craig has been designated to be the receiver of the Toledo Railways & Light Company, but will not be qualified until 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Under receivership, cars will be running next Wednesday, Judge Killits said.

Thousands of people walked to work this morning in a driving storm.

Judge Killits announced, however, that he will not appoint a receiver if an agreement is reached between the company and its employees before Monday morning.

Punitive Expedition Has Accomplished Its Object in Destroying Villa's Military Power, Says Mexican.

Hunting Villa Force Was One Thing, But for 20,000 American Troops to Remain in Mexico Indefinitely Hunting Single Bandit, Another, and Effect Is Feared.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, April 8.—The American troops have accomplished their object in destroying Villa's military power and should, therefore withdraw from Mexico without delay, was the view expressed today by a well known member of the Carranza government, speaking unofficially.

"The punitive force," he said, "has done all that it could expect to do. It has shattered the forces of Villa, who is now a fugitive robbed of all prestige and power he ever held among the people."

"The peons may be ignorant, but they are not fools. They will never again respect a man who turned tail and ran like a coward before the Yankees without even making a stand."

"Meantime, it must be admitted that the Mexican people have behaved well toward the American troops."

"They have received them courteously, but to allow them to remain in Mexico indefinitely—20,000 men hunting for a single bandit, who may not be caught in months—is another matter."

"To allow them to continue their progress to the south indefinitely is still more serious."

"With Villa crushed, now is the logical time for the punitive force to withdraw. No causes of conflict have yet arisen, and the affair so far has turned out fortunately for both sides."

ORIGINAL ORDER STILL IN FORCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 8.—At the War Department today, for the first time, was published the original order to Major General Funston.

The order made no mention of taking Villa "dead or alive," which was described as its purpose by officials when it was issued.

It was said today, however, that such specific wording hardly would be included in an official order.

General Funston today reported to the War Department that natives were beginning to aid in secret scouting work for General Pershing in the Santa Maria Valley, and that Colonel Brown of the Tenth Cavalry

ARE CLOSE ON VILLA TRAIL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, April 8.—The rapidity of Villa's flight into the heart of Mexico may force the establishment of a new army base for the American expedition, near Chihuahua City.

The bandit is probably not over 50 miles ahead of the flying detachments of Colonel Dodd's cavalry.

GOING ON

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 8.—Secretary Baker stated most emphatically late today that there was "absolutely no basis of any kind" for reports that preparations were under way for withdrawing American forces from Mexico.

He said the American troops were moving rapidly south, and that the orders to General Funston following the Columbus massacre had been unchanged.

MORE TROOPS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

San Antonio, Texas, April 8.—Faced by the apparent hopelessness of getting permission to ship supplies over Mexican railroads to the troops in Mexico, and recognizing the inadequacy of the present system of supply, army officers at Major Funston's headquarters here virtually were convinced today that some alternative would have to be found.

Nyal Liver Salts

For Liver Faults

WHEN the liver is upset the whole system is out of tune. The general condition of your health is dependent upon normal liver action. To correct constipation and liven the lazy liver we unhesitatingly suggest the use of NYAL LIVER SALTS. Take it in the morning just before breakfast—you will feel better all day. The sluggish, inactive liver makes you feel out of sorts; slows you down; causes biliousness and sick headache. You cannot feel right when your liver is all wrong. When you feel run down and seem to lack endurance—your liver is probably out of order—undoubtedly it is badly in need of a good dose of NYAL LIVER SALTS. For prompt satisfactory results you can depend upon NYAL LIVER SALTS—a saline laxative that keeps the liver working right. Remember, that for stomach faults you should use NYAL LIVER SALTS. 25¢ and 50¢ the bottle.

DEEP LAID PLOT IS EXPOSED

Would Assassinate the European Rulers.

DISCOVERED AT CHICAGO

Headquarters Located in the Downtown District of the Western Metropolis, With Branches in Other Cities—State's Attorney Hoyne's Men Unearth Conspiracy—Formal Statement Issued by Hoyne.

Chicago, April 8.—An international anarchistic plot to assassinate all rulers of Europe with poison has been discovered here, according to a formal statement by State's Attorney Hoyne. The alleged plot was unearthed by the state's attorney's men while investigating the activities of Jean Cromes, suspected poisoner of the guests at the banquet in honor of Archbishop Mundelein a few weeks ago.

The state's attorney said that a list of the proposed assassinations was headed by the Czar of Russia and that Emperor William was second on the list. According to the information which reached the state's attorney, the plot was known to anarchists in various cities in America as well as in Europe. One man from each city was believed to have been delegated to the work of assassination. Mr. Hoyne said that a written statement had been made to him by an anarchist, baring the details of the alleged plot.

Officials said the headquarters of the band of conspirators was in the downtown district and that there were branches in other cities. According to Hoyne's informant, the Mundelein banquet poisoning "was planned by the group which sought the death of the European rulers. The state's attorney refused to divulge the identity of the man who revealed the alleged plot and said that his investigators were seeking to confirm the statements.

"This man said that secret meetings have been held in Chicago and a number of other cities," said Mr. Hoyne. "He said he attended a meeting in this city at which lots were drawn for the purpose of picking the assassin, and that the meetings were so guarded that only the man chosen for the crime and the leader of the individual group knew the particular ruler singled out."

BUILDS AN ARK

(By American Press)

Drayton, N. D., April 8.—John Rule, a farmer, living on the Red river south of here, believes that the present high water in that and other streams in this section is a forerunner of a flood equal to that described in Genesis, and has accordingly built an ark, in which he expects to save himself and family. A large houseboat, provisioned for forty days, has been constructed and hauled close to the porch of his farmhouse, in order to provide a means of escape from the expected high water.

GERMANS HURLED BACK

Violent Infantry Attack, Following Terrible Bombardment of French Positions Around Haucourt, Proves Futile—Capture of Haucourt Held Important at Berlin—Italians Yield Ground to Austrians.

London, April 8.—The French, with the use of hand grenades, have recaptured additional portions of their lost ground between Bethincourt and Hill 265 in the Verdun region, and in addition made progress in communicating trenches.

Around Haucourt the Germans launched a violent attack against the French, previously having prepared the way by a heavy bombardment lasting several hours. The French, however, through the use of their curtain of fire and rapid-fire guns, put down the attack and forced the Germans to retreat, leaving numerous dead on the ground, as they made their way back to their trenches.

On the remainder of the front in France, and in Belgium, artillery engagements alone have been in progress.

Berlin reports that British positions in mine craters south of St. Eloi, near Ypres, were captured in the course of German attacks. The positions were defended by Canadian troops.

French attacks in the wood northeast of Avocourt, on the west of the Meuse, and the Cailleau woods, on the east bank, broke down.

The capture of Haucourt is regarded in Berlin as one of the most important of the recent developments in the Verdun offensive. Haucourt has served as a support for the French left wing. Now that it is in German hands it will serve as a point from which to bring under fire the village of Bethincourt and the northern part of the Bethincourt salient.

The German losses before Verdun up to the present time have reached the huge total of 200,000 men, one of the greatest battle losses in the whole range of warfare, according to estimates made public from a semi-official source in Paris.

The Pursuit of Villa

The reports, now given very generous publicity, to the effect that the Carranza government will soon notify the War Department of the United States that our troops are following "cold trail" in the hunt for Villa, their presence in Mexico embarrassing and their withdrawal would be appreciated, need occasion no alarm nor surprise.

In the first place it is highly probable that there is no basis in fact for the report. The probability is that it is only another one of the many wild reports circulated through purpose to be "stating something."

If not that then the only other explanation is that it is another rumor circulated by designing people who would force conflict between the United States and the Mexican government in order that their holdings in Mexico could sooner be made marketable.

Of course there exists the bare possibility that there is some truth in the rumor. The Mexican people may, perhaps, be getting a little peevish over the presence of the United States troopers. But whether they are or not the war department makes it clear that the expedition was undertaken only after due consideration. It was deliberately planned and inaugurated. The purpose was definite, clear cut and well understood and from that purpose—the capture of Villa—the United States government does not propose to be turned.

Once having set our hands to the plow we must go to the end of the furrow no matter what the cost in money nor the time required.

"Relentlessly" the forces of the United States will pursue the bandits and capture Villa, regardless of whether it pleases or offends the Carranza government. Every effort has been and will be made to retain the friendship and the cooperation of the de facto government, but that is only now an incident in the task which this government has undertaken and purposes to complete.

There will be no turning aside on account of discouragement.

Hat Hat Again

The interview given out by Colonel Roosevelt in New York on Wednesday in which he announces upon what terms and upon what platform he will accept the Republican nomination for president, has, apparently, removed the last doubt in the minds of political experts as to the attitude of the progressive party leader of four years ago.

To them it is now clear that Colonel Roosevelt is out for nomination and that the famous sombrero is once more in the ring.

That there will be many a vicious kick aimed at the aforesaid chapeau no one, even though only a novice in politics, for instant doubts. On the other hand, wise ones are well aware of the fact that the announced platform of Colonel Roosevelt—America for Americans and preparedness to maintain peace—supplemented and reinforced by his tremendous personal following, constitutes a very substantial brick under the hat which will convey through the toes of those who kick too hard, a very appreciable surprise.

Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy cannot be brushed aside as consequence. He will be a figure in the Chicago convention and there are many avowed candidates now whose hopes of landing the nomination are not as bright as are those of the Oyster Bay.

Senator Harding Chosen

Once more an Ohio man has received nation wide recognition in the political world.

Senator Warren G. Harding has been named by the Republican national committee as the temporary chairman of the national convention which meets in Chicago in June.

To be chosen presiding officer of one of the two greatest political gatherings in the world is an honor which any man covets. It is a signal recognition of ability. Upon the temporary chairman of the national convention is placed the task of "sounding the keynote" of his party's campaign as well as arranging all the preliminary work of organizing the vast assemblage of representative men from all over the nation.

While Ohio people are honored in having the junior senator from the state chosen for so important a post of duty the Republican National Committee is to be congratulated on the selection made.

The Marion editor is not only a man of pronounced ability and closely in touch with the leading men and paramount issues of this momentous time, but he is an orator of matchless power.

The work of sounding the call to arms could not have been done in abler hands.

Senator Harding's "keynote" speech will be worth while.

Poetry For Today

SPRING'S APPROACH

Every time th' Souf Win' blows,
Ticklish feelin' in mah nose,
Makes me sort o'hol' mah breath—
'Fraid I'll scare Ol' Win' to death
By the mighty way I sniff,
When I catch his fragrant drift—
For I jucks that I can smell
Springtime comin' up the dell,

Springtime comin' up the dell
Ridin' on th' wind-waves' swell,
Bringin' on its tousled locks
Scent of rose an' hollyhocks;
Fillin' hedge an' vale with green,
Fillin' me with peace serene,
Till I feel th' jasmine vine
Bout my youthful heart entwine.

Yes, I'll swan, mah nose is keen;
Makes me see the grasses green,
Makes me hear th' robins sing,
Heraldin' an' early spring;
Makes me see each little sprout
'bove th' kivers peekin' out,
Rearin' forth their tiny heads
From their earthen trundle beds.

Blow, Ol' Souf Win', blow yo' best!
Blow th' swallows to their nest!
Blow th' blossoms to th' vine!
Blow th' cones unto th' pine!

For I vum of all the year,
Spring's th' time to me most dear.
An' my heart renews its spring,
Every time I hear you sing.

Pittsburgh.—A hatpin seven inches long was removed from the stomach of Kink, a valuable Boston terrier belonging to Miss Alice Stewart of Wilkinsburg, by a surgeon. The dog had been ill for several days, and an operation was decided upon. The pin lay lengthwise in the dog's stomach.

Cowdin and Thaw, among numerous Americans who have joined the fighting air men, can tell many such tales.

Boelke, Immelmann, Guynemer, Bone, among the newcomers, and Vedrines, Beaumont and Garros, to mention a few of the veterans, are making infallible records.

These men use the aeroplane, or avion, as they call it, not merely as a scouting vehicle, but as a deadly instrument of offense.

Lieutenant Boelke of the German army recently brought down his thirteenth machine over the Forges forest.

Lieutenant Baron von Althaus brought down his fourth aeroplane over enemy lines west of Lihons.

The element of sport enters even into aeroplane warfare.

After all, thinks the aviator, the shame is not so much in being caught as being caught by a mere amateur with a paltry record of two or three captures to his name.

Lieutenant Immelmann recently bagged his tenth enemy aeroplane.

The gallantry and bravery of Lieutenant Warneford illustrates the spirit of these European aviators.

Single handed he attacked a Zeppelin and destroyed it.

A few days later accompanied by the American writer Needham, he made a pleasure trip, and both men were killed in landing.

GENERAL CLEAN-UP WEEK IS PROCLAIMED BY MAYOR OSTER

Week After Next Set Apart for Most Thorough Scouring Ever Given the City, and Every Person In City Is Expected to Do Their Part to Beautify Homes and City Generally.

Mayor Oster has issued a proclamation setting aside the week of April 17th to April 22nd, inclusive as the annual clean-up time for the city, and during that week all citizens are asked to co-operate for a cleaner and more sanitary place in which to live.

In his proclamation Mayor Oster appeals to the pride of Washingtonians and urges the general co-operation to make surroundings more attractive generally, so that the city itself may be beautiful.

In urging a general clean-up, the Mayor also urges liberal use of paint and other forms of adding to the beauty of the homes and city, such as planting flowers, shrubs, giving more attention to lawns, and removing all unsightly objects.

The proclamation follows:

CLEAN-UP PROCLAMATION

Whereas—it is clearly the duty of all citizens of Washington to work together for the welfare of our fair City—for the health, happiness and prosperity of all, and,

Whereas—it has been customary to set apart a time when all citizens are expected to unite in an effort to remove all refuse and rubbish from premises, streets and alleys, and to, insofar as possible, beautify the homes and the entire city, thereby making the homes more desirable, attractive and healthful and the city a more sanitary one and more in keeping with the high ideals of her citizens;

Therefore—I, John Oster, Jr., Mayor of the City of Washington, State of Ohio, do hereby designate, set apart and proclaim the week beginning April 17th and ending April 22nd, to be known and observed as "Clean-up Week," during which time all persons owning, renting, occupying or having control of any real property within the corporate limits of the said city, will be expected and are earnestly requested and urged to clean up said premises, streets, alleys and sidewalks in and near the same, by removing therefrom all rubbish, filth, waste or refuse matter and all garbage and unsightly objects whatsoever so as to place said premises and surroundings in a sanitary and attractive condition, also to be liberal in the use of paint and other forms of decorating and beautifying premises, which will contribute to the general attractiveness of the entire city.

Given under my hand and the corporate seal of the City of Washington, State of Ohio, this the Eighth day of April, 1916.

JOHN OSTER, JR.,
(Seal) Mayor

POSTOFFICE BOX OWNERS ARE WARNED

Postmaster Murry again cautions the persons having boxes at the post office to be careful to lock their boxes after taking out the mail.

Not a few persons, the postmaster says, are careless in only pushing the box door back sometimes not even latching it. Others push the box door shut, latch it, but neglect to move the dials of the combinations locking the box.

The result is that irresponsible parties who come and go at all hours of the day up until 9 o'clock in the evening, are able to open the boxes and extract the mail.

Some persons who neglect to take the precautions and lock their boxes have already suffered loss and inconvenience.

Postmaster Murry and his assistants are doing everything in their power to prevent loafing in the lobby of the postoffice and irresponsible persons lounging about in the lobby will be arrested. The local police have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for loafers and arrest anyone not having business in the lobby of the postoffice.

Tampering with the United States mail is a serious offense and anyone guilty will be given the limit of the law if apprehended.

Lock box owners can save themselves loss and annoyance by observing the admonition of the postoffice authorities and seeing to it that their box door is securely latched and locked.

NEWTON UNDERWOOD DRAWS SECOND $10.35

Newton Underwood, who recently was fined $10.35 for being intoxicated, but who never paid the fine was handed an additional $10.35 when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of intoxication preferred against him in Mayor's court.

A charge of disorderly conduct was not sustained, two witnesses declaring they had not noticed such offense.

Underwood was sent back to jail with the understanding that he would go to the Xenia workhouse unless the $20.70 was forthcoming in short order.

MRS. JOHN TWAY DIES EARLY TODAY

Mrs. John Tway, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of the Yatesville neighborhood in Paint township, passed away at her home Saturday morning about two o'clock, after an illness covering a period of three or four years.

Mrs. Tway, who is survived by a husband and one daughter, Miss Lizzie Tway, was a sister of Mr. Solomon Salmon of this city and Mr. John Salmon, of Springfield.

All of her life had been spent in the Yatesville community where she has large family connections. Most of her life she resided on the old home farm. She was a member of Union Chapel M. E. church and a constant attendant.

Funeral services will be held at Union Chapel M. E. church at ten o'clock Monday morning, and interment will be made in the Tway lot at Bloomingburg cemetery.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Damon Baker are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son at the home of Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brackfield, Friday night. The little son has been named George W., for Mr. Baker's father, the late George W. Baker.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS GLEE CLUB

The High School Auditorium, Friday night held a splendid audience of music lovers, college enthusiasts and High school students, who gave unrestrained expression to their appreciation of the highly entertaining concert given by the Western Glee Club.

The entire program, varied and new, was characterized by true college spirit and brought forth applause and repeated encores to an unusual extent.

The Glee Club was composed of a fine looking bunch of fellows, who responded amazingly to the demands of their forceful leader, Maynard Craig. The club showed itself a thoroughly dependable body of singers, with volume, good balance of parts and excellent finish.

The opening chorus, "Winter Song," was finely rendered and Gounod's "Praise Ye the Father," sung with splendid volume and expression, effective as a closing number prefacing the O. W. U. song.

The Varsity Quartet was good, the voices blending well and the Jubilee Songs, with guitar accompaniment, only rivaled as the hit of the evening by the popular music of the Instrumental Trio.

Decidedly, Mr. Phil Lyon was the "lion" of the hour. A natural born comedian as well as musician, he captivated his audience whether as tenor soloist or instrumentalist and the audience refused to let him go until repeated encores closed with the apropos song, "When War Breaks Out in Mexico," first sung at last year's concert.

The instrumental trio so struck the popular chord that they returned again and again to insistent recalls.

Mr. Charles Suppet, an extremely good accompanist, added a brilliant piano interpretation to Listz's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" and an exquisite little encore.

The reader, Russell K. McCurdy, entertained with one of O. Henry's delightfully humorous stories, "The Hand Book of Hymen."

The Varsity Quartet was composed of: First tenor, Harold Morse; second tenor, Phil Lyon; Baritone, Kenyon Vance; Bass, F. W. Forsythe, and the trio of Messrs. Vance Hills, Lyon, Prof. Guy C. McLean is instructor; Maynard Craig, leader.

MARY J. BROWN WILL IS FILED

The last will of Mary J. Brown has been filed in Probate Court, and bears date of March 17, 1916. James Thompson and Frank Reynolds are witnesses to the document and George J. Gray is made executor of the will.

The document provides for the payment of all debts; gives the home farm of 47 acres and all household goods and effects to the husband, Daniel Brown, during his lifetime.

To a niece, Nettie Gray, and a sister-in-law, Martha Armatrout $1,000 each is given, to be paid by her nephew, Dana Fred Zimmerman.

At the death of the husband, the realty descends to the nephew, Dana Fred Zimmerman, for his lifetime. Fred Zimmerman is to erect, at the death of the testator's husband, a $200 monument over their graves.

If the husband dies before the nephew, the nephew is not to have active control of the farm until he is 35 years of age, and during the interval a trustee, to be appointed by the Probate Judge, is to look after the actual management of the estate. Provision is made against the farm being mortgaged by the nephew.

At nephew's death the property goes to his heirs, or should he leave no heirs, a trustee will be appointed and the estate divided among testator's relatives as provided by law.

PRESBYTERY IS TO MEET IN WILMINGTON

Rev. William Boynton Gage and delegates from the First Presbyterian church in this city will go to Wilmington, Tuesday of next week, for the meeting of the Chillicothe Presbytery at that place.

Speaking of the meeting the Wilmington Journal says:

"For the first time in several years the meeting of the Chillicothe Presbytery will be held with the local Presbyterian church. Next Monday and Tuesday, April 10 and 11. The Presbytery includes the churches of the surrounding counties, bearing the name of the largest city which it comprises. The plan of holding the meetings in the different towns and cities is followed, and the local church will receive the visiting church people in such a way that they will be glad when it is Wilmington's turn again, no doubt.

"Rev. Freeley Rohrer, pastor of the church at Greenfield, will act as Moderator of the Presbytery meeting and will preach the Moderator's sermon Monday afternoon. The Lord's Supper and the sacrament will follow the sermon.

"The meeting is largely one for the transaction of business and the forty delegates who will attend will put in two busy days. Monday evening will be devoted to missionary topics, the service to be conducted by Rev. Kaye. It is announced that perhaps, a stereopticon lecture may be given. Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock there will be devotional services. The public is cordially invited to all of the sessions of the Presbytery."

BABY WEEK EMINENTLY SUCCESSFUL

Belief Expressed That Several Tiny Lives Were Saved From Premature Death—Dr. Kellogg Delivers Masterly Lecture Last Night.

"Baby Week" comes to a close tonight, and upwards of 150 of the 200 babies registered will have been examined.

The scene at the Welfare rooms during the week was a most interesting one, and as a result of the physical defects found and called to the attention of parents of several of the youngsters, several of the children have, in all probability, been saved from premature death.

One little child was suffering from a defective lung, and will undergo proper treatment for that weakness.

Another youngster suffered from heart trouble, and instructions were given for attention which should greatly aid, if not completely cure the affliction. In both instances the parents were not aware of the serious defects.

Numerous other cases where less serious defects were found and which eventually would have resulted in serious or fatal weakness. Quite a large number of almost physically perfect babies were found.

A few of the little tots had been suffering from improper dressing, and in some instances shoes were found too short for the cramped little feet.

Those in charge of the work are greatly pleased with results, and are deeply grateful to the physicians of the city who devoted quite a great deal of time to the work of examining the children.

Statistics compiled on the examinations will be made public sometime next week, or as soon as they can be assembled in proper shape.

The work has resulted in mothers and fathers giving closer attention to their children, and realizing the benefits to be derived from examination of their children, proper nourishment and wearing apparel.

One of the most interesting features of the entire week was the masterly lecture delivered by Dr. Kellogg of the Broad street M. E. church, Columbus, at Grace M. E. church, Friday night.

The lecture was on the "Worth of the Boy", and while not largely attended, was one of the most interesting addresses of its kind ever given in the city, and one which merited a much larger attendance than was present.

Dr. Kellogg had made a careful study of the theme which he discussed, and gave many valuable hints to parents on the manner in which a boy should be reared in order to be a genuine comfort and pleasure as a boy and as a man.

SPARKS WILL GO TO WORKS MONDAY

A. C. Sparks, wife-beater under six months workhouse sentence and fine of $200 which he cannot pay, will in all probability, be taken to the Xenia workhouse Monday of next week, to begin his long sentence.

All efforts of Sparks' wife and other relatives to obtain his release have been refused, Mayor Oster stating that the man must work out the six months in the works even if the $200 and costs be paid.

It is claimed that Sparks is an ex-convict, serving time either in Indiana or Michigan. One statement was to the effect that he was simply out on parole from the Indiana Reformatory, and if such is correct, he may be turned over to the authorities in that state.

The Men's Class of the Sugar Creek Baptist Sunday School will entertain at the church, Wednesday evening, April 12, at 7:30. Everybody cordially invited.

SEEPS ARE TAKEN TO AID RED CROSS

Name E. A. Moree, Director of Atlantic Division.

MORE MEMBERS ARE SOUGHT

One of New Appointee's First Duties Is to Assist in Organizing New Chapters—Moree Lately Has Been Actively Engaged in Field of Public Health. His Division Covers Large Area.

Washington.—Ernest P. Bicknell, director general of civilian relief of the American Red Cross, announced the appointment of Edward A. Moree of Yonkers, N. Y., as director of the Atlantic division of the Red Cross, with headquarters in New York city.

In announcing the appointment Mr. Bicknell said that filling the post is one of the steps in the campaign of the Red Cross for a million members and that one of Mr. Moree's first duties would be to assist in organizing new chapters and in campaigning for new members of present chapters.

The Atlantic division of the Red Cross is east and south of the Ohio river and east of the Mississippi river (this includes twenty-one states) and has a population of nearly 50,000,000 persons.

To accept the position Mr. Moree resigned as assistant secretary of the New York State Charities Aid association.

Mr. Moree was in the newspaper profession, serving in many capacities in various New York papers. Going to New York from Elmira, Mr. Moree took the position of editor of the educational department of the Brooklyn Eagle from which position he went to the New York Tribune as New Jersey editor. After four years' service with the Tribune he resigned as night city editor and started a newspaper in Geneva, N. Y., but later entered social work with the Russell Sage foundation.

WANTED. A POSTMASTER.

Office Discontinued Because No One Could Be Found.

Marquette, Wis.—The postoffice at Washington Harbor, Door county, has been discontinued for the reason that ill health prevented the postmaster, L. P. Ottosen, from performing his duties, and he resigned.

Uncle Sam made every effort to find a man to replace the postmaster, without success. The job was not only offered to several, but advertisements were inserted in Door county papers offering the place to

In Social Circles

The Daughters of Rebekah enjoyed a very beautiful Kensington at the home of Mrs. Charles Gardner, on E. Market street, Friday afternoon.

Extending cordial hospitality, as assisting hostesses with Mrs. Gardner were Mesdames Clark Rowe, Deere, Sollars, Barney, Ella Taylor, Adams, Miss Cline, Miss Stafford; Mrs. Ralph Allen of Staunton and Mesdames Greene, Divens and Harper of Good Hope.

Potted plants and cut flowers in graceful arrangement carried out prettily the Easter colors of yellow and green and an elegant luncheon, of which Easter suggestions were a feature, was served.

Mrs. F. M. McCoy won first prize in an amusing contest and Mrs. Martin Hamm the consolation.

An attractive little program was given; Misses Beulah Elliott and Chloe Anderson contributing readings and Misses Louise and Madonna Larrimer vocal solos.

A large number of Rebekahs found the afternoon of the utmost pleasure.

IMPORTANT MEETING MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Dr. Kellogg, of Broad Street M. E. church, of Columbus, addressed the Ministerial Association, convening at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. He made a splendid talk on "The Seed and the Soil."

Mrs. Salisbury died several years ago.

In compliment to his guests, Messrs. Charles Cuppett, Frank Griffin and Bruce Burgess, of the O. W. U. Glee Club, Edwards Hopkins, home from Oberlin College for the spring vacation, informally entertained a dozen young people after the Glee Club concert Friday night.

Mr. Cuppett, the talented pianist of the club, favored the guests with a number of solos and the aftermath of the concert was much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Maynard extended the hospitality of their home to ten of the O. W. U. Glee Club after the concert. The boys generously continued the concert program to the delight of their entertainers.

Miss Ella Baber, one of the leading local operators of the Ohio State Telephone Co., for a number of years, will be united in marriage to Mr. Wilfred Howsmon, of Dayton, at eight o'clock tonight by Rev. P. J. Hennessy.

The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Henry Sherritt and witnessed only by the family and intimate friends.

Following the meeting the Association and guests, Dr. Kellogg and Rev. Mr. Parrish, representative of the Bromley tabernacle meetings, enjoyed lunch at the Arlington Hotel.

VILLA IS LOCATED AGAIN?

Bandit Still Pushing His Way Southward.

AMERICANS IN PURSUIT

Have Long Ago Cut Loose From Their Supply Base, Are Now South of Satevo and Have Little but Fresh Meat to Eat—County Extremely Rough but Well Watered. Attitude of the Carranzistas.

El Paso, April 8.—Francisco Villa was definitely located at La Boquilla in a code message received here from Torreon, Mexico. La Boquilla is fifty-five miles southeast of Satevo and about an equal distance north of Parral.

El Paso, Tex., April 8.—According to information received by Mexican Consul Andres Garcia and General George Bell, Jr., commander of the American border patrol at El Paso, Villa is pushing his way southward through Mexico. He is in the mountains south of Satevo, a town about midway between Chihuahua City and Parral.

The information came from General Luis Gutierrez, commanding the Carranza troops in Chihuahua, who reported that his forces on April 4 had engaged Villa's rear guard at Irene-guilas, a small place just across the San Pedro river from Satevo, and that two of the prisoners captured by the Carranzistas reported that Villa's personal command, reduced to 200 men, was less than a day ahead. Villa had left fifty men behind at Irene-guilas to protect his retreat. The Carranzistas killed ten of these and took two others prisoners. The other thirty-eight scattered to the hills in small boats.

Advices from General Gutierrez, and also from American army sources, report the American army south of Satevo and pushing further south on the trail of Villa. The Americans have long ago cut loose from their supply base in the hard ride and have little to eat but fresh meat, except when they encounter American mining camps able to supply flour and bacon from their commissaries.

The advance guard of the American forces is still in command of Colonel Dodd, closely followed by the command of Colonel Brown of the Fifth cavalry, who last week met and almost annihilated a Villa band in San Antonio canyon, near Ojo Calientes. Colonel Brown fought these Villistas near Bachiniva, but had to fall back to Cusi because of exhaustion of his supplies, it is explained. He was reinforced there by other cavalry escorting a provision train and again took the field, riding south after the Dodd command.

The country into which Villa has passed is extremely rough, but well watered and Americans acquainted with the region assert that there should be considerable pasture for horses at this time of the year. Many of the horses of the different commands have succumbed to the hardships of the grueling rides after the bandits, but the large number still serviceable is the subject of much comment from cavalrymen and frontiersmen alike.

Carranza troops, concentrated at and near the City of Chihuahua when it was feared that Villa might attempt to strike at the state capital, are now moved southwest into the mountains after Villa, co-operating with the American forces, according to the advices to Consul Garcia.

So far as can be learned there is apparently no more friction between the American and Carranza forces than the day the Americans entered Mexico, and while the American column has penetrated over 400 miles into Mexico, the Carranza officials apparently are evidencing no alarm at the length of the stay of the Americans.

Columbus, April 8.—The state civil service commission has set Tuesday for the formal investigation of charges that George L. Stoughton, secretary of the state industrial commission, urged political activity upon a civil service employee and that a state factory inspector solicited political funds from a Cleveland industrial concern. Charles Follette and Judge W. H. Middleton of the attorney general's office will assist in the investigation. Employees of the Democratic state headquarters, who are said to have possession of a letter written by Stoughton, will be summoned. Stoughton expects to be present at the hearing without an attorney to represent him. He declares that he is not guilty of any violation of the law. Stoughton is not under civil service and the only charge is that he wrote a letter urging a civil service employee to activity in behalf of Governor W. P. D. Davis.

New York, April 8.—In an accounting filed of Frank L. Ferguson's stewardship of the tangled financial affairs of Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor to illustrious preachers in Plymouth church, Mr. Ferguson paints Dr. Hillis as "money-eager, a reckless plunger in coal and timber speculations, a deceiver of his friends," and finally as hopelessly involved in a mesh of financial deals and threatened with innumerable law suits.

Mr. Ferguson, in his voluminous accounting, aims to show that in the years he served Dr. Hillis, from May, 1910, to April, 1915, he was of great service to the preacher and was on the road to getting him out of debt when the two men quarreled.

In the years that Mr. Ferguson handled the preacher's business affairs he says that he reduced the latter's liabilities from $878,030 to $302,600, or by $575,430. Mr. Ferguson said he received from or on behalf of Dr. Hillis $1,018,537.47 and paid out $1,018,541.98, leaving $4.51 still due him.

For the man whose pride cannot afford an unsightly, little, uncomfortable car—

And it is a very definite success.

Beauty is not necessarily a matter of size.

Neither does size altogether control comfort.

But skill, experience and facilities are required to build a small, beautiful, comfortable, economical car.

In a word, it required Overland organization.

And here is the small, light car—complete to the last detail.

Its performance is on a par with its beauty, comfort and completeness.

And its price—$615—is far below any former price for any completely equipped automobile—regardless of appearance or comfort considerations.

A glance at the car impresses you immediately with its beauty and finish.

As you look it over and read its specifications, you realize its absolute completeness.

But you must ride in it to appreciate its comfort.

You must drive it to get the thrill its performance will give you.

The GIRL and the GAME

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

AUTHOR OF "WHISPERING SMITH," "THE MOUNTAIN DIVIDE," "STRATEGY OF GREAT RAILROADS," ETC.

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scene of railroad by George Spike, a ne'er-do-well. Grown to young womanhood, Helen saves Storm, now a fireman, her father, and his friends Amos Rhinelander, financier, and Robert Seagruet, promoter, from a threatened collision. Safe-breakers employed by Seagruet steal General Holmes' survey plans of the cut off line for the Tidewater, fatally wound the general and escape. Her father's estate badly involved by his death, Helen goes to work to earn money. She removes the survey plane from Seagruet, and though they are taken from her, finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm is employed by Rhinelander. Spike, befriended by Helen, in his turn saves her and the right-of-way contracts when Seagruet kidnaps her. Helen and Storm win for Rhinelander a race against Seagruet for right of way.

In the dispatchers' office the chief was sitting at his desk and a dispatcher was on his trick at the instrument. He answered Arden instantly, took the startling message, walked hurriedly over to the chief and handed it to him:

H. C. W. Runaway car from cut-off on main line. Stop passenger at Baird—L.

The dispatcher sprang to his train sheets and hopped with them to the chief who dictated the only possible answer:

It was too late to avoid a collision. They could only await the issue.

With Arden station left far behind, Helen, making the utmost possible speed in Seagruet's machine, scanned the track ahead for a glimpse of the wild car. Resolved at any cost to overtake it, she was running the machine on the right of way and on the track itself in her determined effort. When she caught sight of the runaway, no one was to be seen upon it, but she knew Rhinelander and Storm were inside and as she began to overhaul the chase, she sounded her horn insistently. The two men, leaving Spike, who in the face of the common danger had pulled himself partly together, looked out of the side door. To their amazement they saw at their heels Helen bumping violently along in Seagruet's machine. She signaled them excitedly. She tried to shout to them but could not make a word heard above the deafening noises. Rhinelander and Storm did make out, however, that she wanted them to go to the top of the car and the two men climbed the side ladder again.

Helen, still close behind, scribbled a note, folded it hurriedly, took off a shoe, stuck the note inside and with careful aim, threw it up on top of the car. The men secured the shoe and read the note:

Passenger due—Must ditch car—Jump.

Rhinelander and Storm looked at each other and looked down the line. The smoke of the passenger train rose on the horizon. There was nothing to do but what Helen directed. They thought of Spike below, but Helen was calling to them and without further delay the two men jumped one after the other down into the machine. They told Helen of Spike's plight. She nodded as if the difficulty were no more than detail, slid the machine from between the rails, drove around the outfit car, slowed along side it and all three shouted. Spike, hearing his name, listened and sat up. He saw the machine outside the door and crawled forward but he was up equal to a leap. Rhinelander and Storm urged him to make every effort. He got to his feet and did the best he could toward a jump. The men together half caught and half pulled him into the machine. With the three aboard, Helen sped on ahead of the runaway.

Storm had decided what to do. "I'll drop off the hind end, Helen," he exclaimed, "and derail the car."

She caught his idea. "Quick!" she cried. "No time to lose."

Storm rolled over the back of the machine and dropped to the ground. A bridge spanned an arroyo just ahead. Running forward, Storm caught up such loose rocks as he could reach and placed them along the track. Helen, choosing a negotiable point, turned her machine courageously off the right of way and steered it safely down the embankment. The outfit car struck the rocks Storm had thrown on the track. It reeled, plunged wildly into the air and shot headlong over the bridge into the bottom of the arroyo.

In the distance the oncoming passenger train was whistling for a crossing close ahead. Storm running back to the track, cleared it hurriedly of the obstructions. The engineer of the train, scenting trouble, tried to check his train, but it was too late and Storm, to save himself, dropped down between the ties and hung there till the heavy train hurtled past. No engine driver was ever more relieved than the man in the passenger cab, when he saw himself safely across. He stopped his train. From the foot of the bridge, Helen, Spike and Rhinelander were making their way to the top and were with Storm when the crew and passengers came back. The engineman angrily told the conductor the trouble. But after Storm's brief story, he was as grateful as he had been indignant.

The conductor, knowing the anxiety among the dispatchers, urged his passengers on board and the train hastened on. The moment it pulled into Arden the conductor gave the details to the operator and the latter wired headquarters.

In the dispatchers' office it was the chief himself who jumped to the instrument when he heard the Arden call. It was the chief who took the message telling how Helen and Storm had saved the train. But the chief, as he wiped his face with his handkerchief, reflected that it was only another incident in the day's work on the rail, happily, instead of tragically, closed.

At the bridge Spike was trying to express his gratefulness to the three who had rescued him. They left the scene together in the commandeered machine; and with perhaps a little better understanding of one another than any of them had yet reached.

Bowser's Quiet Evening

By M. QUAD

MRS. BOWSER had a presentiment the other day that Mr. Bowser would come home to dinner ready to raise a row about something, but her anxiety was dispelled the moment she caught a glimpse of his face as he entered the hall. It was as calm and placid as a June morning. At dinner he continued calm and placid.

Mr. Bowser's usual habit is to smoke a cigar and read the evening paper after dinner. On this occasion he followed his usual custom, and Mrs. Bowser sat down to a book, and he fell into a doze.

By and by, as Mrs. Bowser read on, there came a ring at the doorbell. Mr. Bowser uttered a sleepy grunt, but was not aroused. She opened the door to find a horse looking man standing there.

"Is Mr. Bowser home?" he asked curtly.

"No," she fibbed. "What did you want?"

"I saw him about a horse this afternoon, and he was to come up to the corner this evening and take a look at him. He said if the animal pleased him he would buy him and pay my price for him. It's mighty singular that he should go off somewhere else after giving his word to me!"

His personal appearance and language angered Mrs. Bowser, and she replied: "Mr. Bowser wants no horse. You can't sell him one and therefore need not waste your valuable time. I run this house, and no horse is wanted."

The man with the horse to sell grudgingly backed off, and Mrs. Bowser returned to her book. Mr. Bowser had slept on, and his sleep had grown deeper. About twenty minutes after the first caller a second arrived, and the door was opened upon a big tramp, who said:

"I was here one night two weeks ago. It was a short, bald headed man who talked to me. I asked him for a quarter to get a night's lodging, and he replied that he hadn't a cent in change. He would gladly have given me a quarter if he had it, but the best he could do was to tell me to call again in about two weeks. It is just two weeks, ma'am, and can I see the gentleman?"

"You can't!" was the emphatic reply.

"Then perhaps," continued the tramp, "you will gladly pay his debt? It is a debt of honor, made by one gentleman to another gentleman. One gentleman expects another gentleman to square up."

"Yes," replied Mrs. Bowser, "and one gentleman may expect that another gentleman wearing a police uniform may give him the collar, as they call it, if he doesn't hustle down those front steps!"

"Then—then I can't see the short, bald headed man?"

"You may meet him on the street tomorrow."

"Just so, ma'am—just so. And if I do I will tell him that he is no gentleman."

Mrs. Bowser was softly laughing to herself as she returned a second time. There were no signs that Mr. Bowser had awakened during her absence. It was a quarter to 9 when the next ring came. This time she opened the door to a sleek, slick looking man, who lifted his plug hat with a smile and explained: "I called to see your husband."

"YOU SEEM TO BE A GOOD WALKER."

"Then you'll have to call again," she replied.

"I don't think I could call any other evening," he continued. "The matter is this, and perhaps you can attend to it yourself. You are Mrs. Bowser, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"When your husband got off the car two hours ago a greenback dropped from his pocket, and I picked it up and walked along. It is a ten dollar bill. Mrs. Bowser, and my conscience has so troubled me that I have come here to restore it. I have a sick wife at home, and she is in great need of food and medicine. This bill will buy all of them, but when I went home full of joy and told her how I acquired it she said I must return it. So here I am, and here's the bill."

Mrs. Bowser took the bill and scanned it. It needed but one glance to tell her that it was a Confederate ten dollar bill, and she turned to the man with:

"And what do you expect for your honesty, sir?"

"Why—why," he stammered, "I thought, being as I had a sick wife who needs comforts, that you might be moved to hand me over $2 or $3 and thus relieve my great anxiety. I don't put it on the ground of my honesty, but because of my sick wife."

Mrs. Bowser did not return the bill. With it clenched in her fingers she brushed past him out on the steps and said:

"You seem to be a good walker. Let me see if you can disappear around the corner before that policeman up there reaches our gate. You are such an honest man that I should hate to see him arrest you. Your sick wife might die before you got out of jail."

The sleek, slick man was a man of good manners. He lifted his hat and bowed and remarked that it was a pleasant evening, and he walked away so fast that he almost left the policeman at the post. A long hour passed away, and then Mr. Bowser and the cat woke up. Both yawned and stretched, and both rubbed their eyes, and Mr. Bowser said:

"Durned if I don't believe I was asleep. Has anything happened?"

"Nothing has happened, Mr. Bowser—nothing at all," replied Mrs. Bowser as she looked at that Confederate bill and wondered what Mr. Bowser would have done had he been in her place.

CROP REPORT IS NOT PROMISING

The present condition of Ohio's wheat crop is poor, correspondents estimate it at 66 per cent, compared with an average. One month ago condition was reported at 71 per cent. April 1st last year condition was estimated at 88 per cent. Generally over the State seedling was late, and the plant had made but small growth at commencement of winter. Early sown wheat in fair condition. The plant appears to have suffered from insufficient snow protection and has been further damaged during past month by alternate thawing and freezing. Reports indicate that many acres

The condition of corn in crib is estimated at 86 per cent compared with an average. The crop was in poor condition for cribbing, owing to continued wet weather. During winter the unhusked corn suffered damage to the extent of 20 per cent.

The backward season has made it impossible to accurately estimate fruit prospect compared with a normal yield; prospect is estimated at 71 per cent. Reports of damage refer almost wholly to peach crop.

The present season is very backward. Plowing and spring work retarded by the unfavorable weather conditions.

SEEMS REASONABLE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, April 8.—Information from Mexican sources today said that Francisco Villa had reached the environs of Parral and had sent emissaries into the town to test the spirit of the garrison, and also to obtain provisions.

No verification of the report was possible, but the fact that the bandit was reliably reported to have been only 50 miles from Parral two days ago gave color to the story.

The legacy comes from Miss Lena Capman, of London, who died recently.

Washington, April 8.—Miss Elsie Beck, 25, Toledo girl, a nurse in training at a local hospital with but a few weeks study before her graduation, is sole heiress to a fortune of $300,000 in London, according to a letter received yesterday from a New York attorney.

The legacy comes from Miss Beck's aunt, Miss Lena Capman, of London, who died recently.

Washington, April 8.—Farm land values are increasing almost by leaps and bounds.

Figures made public today by the Department of Agriculture show that values for the United States, taken as a whole, increased 25.7 per cent in the past four years and 11.5 per cent last year.

The exceptional increases of last year are attributed to the reaction in the south, following last year's temporary depression, and to the stimulus of war prices, particularly of grain.

Pattonia, April 8.—Jess Willard, the exceptional increases of last year are attributed to the reaction in the south, following last year's temporary depression, and to the stimulus of war prices, particularly of grain.

Weather officials say the precipitation is notable for April. Cincinnati reported a fall of two and one-half inches.

Washington, April 8.—Governor Willis' friends were pleased today over the announcement that he has been chosen to make the speech at the Chicago convention nominating Theodore E. Burton for the presidency.

The choice was made known in Washington by Granville Mooney, who has charge of Burton's headquarters there.

The extraordinary demand for women has caused many factory proprietors to petition the department of workshops and factories for leniency in laws regulating the working hours of women. Without exception, these requests have been refused. Mr. Hamilton reported in one case, both the employer and a number of girl workers joined in asking that they be allowed to work one extra hour a day. This, it was reported, has been true especially of potteries in Eastern Ohio and the Muskingum valley district.

Wages paid women have not increased to any great extent as a result of the greater demand, Mr. Hamilton reported. Potteries and rubber factories now pay probably the highest wages of any class of industrial establishments in the state, he said.

MILK WAR IS ENDED

(Associated Press Cable)

Chicago, April 8.—The milk war between the producers in the Chicago district and the distributors in Chicago is practically at an end today.

But one of the distributors, the Borden Condensed Milk Company, has not signed an agreement with the producers to buy milk at the new price, an increase of 22 cents a hundred over the old price.

Assistant United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe has announced he will start an investigation to determine whether either the Milk Producers Association or the distributors have violated the Sherman anti-trust law as applied to inter-state commerce, by attempting to fix prices.

DENIAL EXPECTED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 8.—Official denial of persistent reports that the de facto government of Mexico had asked withdrawal of the American troops was expected here today, to set at rest all such rumors.

Washington, April 8.—Miss Elsie Beck, 25, Toledo girl, a nurse in training at a local hospital with but a few weeks study before her graduation, is sole heiress to a fortune of $300,000 in London, according to an estimate of State Drug Inspector E. W. Harrington reported to Thomas C. Calvert, chief of the dairy and food division. Four times as much is used for illegitimate as for medicinal purposes. The number of doses of these habit forming drugs imported into Ohio annually for wrong uses is estimated at 2,308,700,000.

Inspector Harrington cites the recent declaration of a prominent physician that the drug habit is practiced by one in every 22 adult citizens, one physician in five one dentist in six, and one druggist in seven. He urges that the state establish a sanitarium to treat victims of the drug habit who cannot afford to go to a private institution.

French Submarine Sends Austrian Transport to the Bottom—Another Meeting of Entente Allies to Be Held in Paris.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, April 8.—The salient in French lines west of the Meuse, the village of Bethincourt as sharp angle, is being pounded on sides by the Germans, who, in last drive, succeeded in making new dent in the line southwest Bethincourt.

The success was achieved near Bethincourt village, the important position lost by the French on Wednesday, the Germans gaining a foot in two small field works between Bethincourt and Hill No. 287, which south of the village.

On the other side of the salient there has been sharp fighting; according to Paris today, the village here was with the French bested their adversaries in combat between Bethincourt and Chattancourt.

There has been little fighting elsewhere in the Verdun region.

German grenade attack near Vaux was repulsed by the French, whose positions east of the village have been subjected to intense bombardment.

Austrian transport has been in the Adriatic by a French submarine, Paris announces officially.

There is no let up in submarine warfare.

Added to the list of vessels destroyed are the steamers Chantala of tons, and Braunton, of 4,575 and the schooner Clyde, of 1,000.

All was submitted to the Dutch government, authorizing the calling the recruits of the 1917 class should be deemed necessary.

Commercial ques-

Thousands of people walked to work this morning in a driving storm.

Judge Killits announced, however, that he will not appoint a receiver if an agreement is reached between the company and its employees before Monday morning.

Punitive Expedition Has Accomplished Its Object in Destroying Villa's Military Power, Says Mexican.

Hunting Villa Force Was One Thing, But for 20,000 American Troops to Remain in Mexico Indefinitely Hunting Single Bandit, Another, and Effect Is Feared.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, April 8.—The American troops have accomplished their object in destroying Villa's military power and should, therefore withdraw from Mexico without delay, was the view expressed today by a well known member of the Carranza government, speaking unofficially.

"The punitive force," he said, "has done all that it could expect to do. It has shattered the forces of Villa, who is now a fugitive robbed of all prestige and power he ever held among the people."

"The peons may be ignorant, but they are not fools. They will never again respect a man who turned tail and ran like a coward before the Yankees without even making a stand."

"Meantime, it must be admitted that the Mexican people have behaved well toward the American troops."

"They have received them courteously, but to allow them to remain in Mexico indefinitely—20,000 men hunting for a single bandit, who may not be caught in months—is another matter."

"To allow them to continue their progress to the south indefinitely is still more serious."

"With Villa crushed, now is the logical time for the punitive force to withdraw. No causes of conflict have yet arisen, and the affair so far has turned out fortunately for both sides."

ORIGINAL ORDER STILL IN FORCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 8.—At the War Department today, for the first time, was published the original order to Major General Funston.

The order made no mention of taking Villa "dead or alive," which was described as its purpose by officials when it was issued.

It was said today, however, that such specific wording hardly would be included in an official order.

General Funston today reported to the War Department that natives were beginning to aid in secret scouting work for General Pershing in the Santa Maria Valley, and that Colonel Brown of the Tenth Cavalry

ARE CLOSE ON VILLA TRAIL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, April 8.—The rapidity of Villa's flight into the heart of Mexico may force the establishment of a new army base for the American expedition, near Chihuahua City.

The bandit is probably not over 50 miles ahead of the flying detachments of Colonel Dodd's cavalry.

GOING ON

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 8.—Secretary Baker stated most emphatically late today that there was "absolutely no basis of any kind" for reports that preparations were under way for withdrawing American forces from Mexico.

He said the American troops were moving rapidly south, and that the orders to General Funston following the Columbus massacre had been unchanged.

MORE TROOPS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

San Antonio, Texas, April 8.—Faced by the apparent hopelessness of getting permission to ship supplies over Mexican railroads to the troops in Mexico, and recognizing the inadequacy of the present system of supply, army officers at Major Funston's headquarters here virtually were convinced today that some alternative would have to be found.

The Pursuit of Villa

The reports, now given very generous publicity, to the effect that the Carranza government will soon notify the War Department of the United States that our troops are following "cold trail" in the hunt for Villa, their presence in Mexico embarrassing and their withdrawal would be appreciated, on occasion no alarm nor surprise.

In the first place it is highly probable that there is no basis in fact for the report. The probability is that it is only another one of the many wild reports circulated through purpose to be "stating something."

If not that then the only other explanation is that it is another rumor circulated by designing people who would force conflict between the United States and the Mexican government in order that their holdings in Mexico could sooner be made marketable.

Of course there exists the bare possibility that there is some truth in the rumor. The Mexican people may, perhaps, be getting a little peevish over the presence of the United States troopers. But whether they are or not the war department makes it clear that the expedition was undertaken only after due consideration. It was deliberately planned and inaudited. The purpose was definite, clear cut and well understood and from that purpose—the capture of Villa—the United States government does not propose to be turned.

Once having set our hands to the plow we must go to the end of the furrow no matter what the cost in money nor the time required.

"Relentlessly" the forces of the United States will pursue the bandits and capture Villa, regardless of whether it pleases or offends the Carranza government. Every effort has been and will be made to retain the friendship and the cooperation of the de facto government, but that is only now an incident in the task which this government has undertaken and purposes to complete.

There will be no turning aside on account of discouragements.

What Hat Again

The interview given out by Colonel Roosevelt in New York on Wednesday in which he announces upon what terms and upon what platform he will accept the Republican nomination for president, has, apparently, removed the last doubt in the minds of political experts as to the attitude of the progressive party leader of four years ago.

To them it is now clear that Colonel Roosevelt is out for nomination and that the famous sombrero is once more in the ring.

That there will be many a vicious kick aimed at the aforesaid chapeau no one, even though only a novice in politics, for instant doubts. On the other hand, wise ones are well aware of the fact that the announced platform of Colonel Roosevelt—America for Americans and preparedness to maintain peace—supplemented and reinforced by his tremendous personal following, constitutes a very substantial brick under the hat which will convey through the toes of those who kick too hard, a very appreciable surprise.

Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy cannot be brushed aside as no consequence. He will be a figure in the Chicago convention and there are many avowed candidates now whose hopes of landing the nomination are not as bright as are those of the Oyster Bay.

Senator Harding Chosen

Once more an Ohio man has received nation wide recognition in the political world.

Senator Warren G. Harding has been named by the Republican national committee as the temporary chairman of the national convention which meets in Chicago in June.

To be chosen presiding officer of one of the two greatest political gatherings in the world is an honor which any man covets. It is a signal recognition of ability. Upon the temporary chairman of the national convention is placed the burden of "sounding the keynote" of his party's campaign as well as arranging all the preliminary work of organizing the vast assemblage of representative men from all over the country.

While Ohio people are honored in having the junior senator from the state chosen for so important a post of duty the Republican National Committee is to be congratulated on the selection made.

The Marion editor is not only a man of pronounced ability closely in touch with the leading men and paramount issues of this momentous time, but he is an orator of matchless power.

The work of sounding the call to arms could not have been in abler hands.

Senator Harding's "keynote" speech will be worth while.

Poetry For Today

SPELNG'S APPROACH

Every time th' Souf Win' blows,
Ticklish feelin' in mah nose,
Makes me sort o'hol' mah breath—
Afraid I'll scare Ol' Win' to death
By the mighty way I sniff,
When I catch his fragrant drift—
For I jucks that I can smell
Springtime comin' up the dell.

Springtime comin' up the dell
Ridin' on th' wind-waves' swell,
Bringin' in its tousled locks
Scent of rose an' hollyhocks;
Fillin' hedge an' vale with green,
Fillin' me with peace serene,
Till I feel th' jasmine vine
Bout my youthful heart entwine.

Yes, I'll swan, mah nose is keen;
Makes me see the grasses green,
Makes me hear th' robins sing,
Heraldin' an early spring;
Makes me see each little sprout
bove th' rivers peekin' out,
Rearin' forth their tiny heads
From their earthen trundle beds.

Blow, Ol' Souf Win', blow yo' best!
Blow th' swallows to their nest!
Blow th' blossoms to th' vine!
Blow th' cones unto th' pine!
For I vum of all the year,
Spring's th' time to me most dear.
An' my heart renews its spring,
Every time I hear you sing.

EYES ON AVIATORS

Spectacular Air Battles In Europe
Focus Attention.

AMAZING PROGRESS MADE.

Many a Sensation Is Produced When Bird Men Meet In Air—Participants Could Give Story With Imperishable Vividness—Often Near Death.

London.—Europe's war has produced conditions that make aeroplane the grimdest adventure known to man. War is man's oldest game. Aviation is his latest. Each day intrepid air men, under twenty-five years of age for the most part, like hawks make course above roof, tent, rampart and battlefield to thrust suddenly below premeditated thunderbolts of death. They fight duels in the air with other indomitable young men in enemy aeroplanes. When something goes wrong a mile or more above earth on a mild June evening in time of peace a queer sensation is produced. The percussive crack heard by thousands of air men above the European battle lines these days and nights in all kinds of weather produces a sensation much more queer. A lieutenant just out of his teens, a wing broken, clinging to his duty, his ears deafened, little knowing whether it is the whistling storm he hears or the whirr of shot—thousands of such those fifty air men who fought the greatest aerial battle of the war recently when the allied aeroplanes raided Mulhausen, Upper Alsace. Five German aeroplanes and three French fell, the occupants of all being killed.

On the outbreak of the war Adolphe Pegoud, the famous French aviator who gained renown in 1913 when he originated the feat of flying upside down in an aeroplane and looping the loop, joined the French squadron and was often mentioned for valor. He started the American people when he came to this country and did the loop down the loop. His daring feats will go down in aeronautical history.

COWS WEAR DRESSES.

Made of Hemp Cloth to Protect Them From the Cold.

San Francisco.—An authority on dress and its care for dairy cows is a guest at the St. Francis, in the person of Sir Francis Webster of Glasgow, a wealthy manufacturer of hemp goods in Scotland and the owner of a stock range in Texas embracing 1,500,000 acres and thousands of head of stock. Sir Francis' cows are dressed regularly every winter in suits of hemp cloth made at his own manufacturing establishment, to protect them from the cold and snow, minimize the dangers from tuberculosis and increase their daily yield of milk.

Each cow has two suits a week. They are not elaborate dress affairs by any means, with lingerie and all that. It is a man made dress of one piece, or simply a coverall blanket that fits loosely.

This, of course, means added expense, but the yield of milk during the cold weather is about 27 per cent larger than from cows not similarly protected.

OLD INDIAN LEAVES HOSPITAL

Chief, Over 100, Was More Comfortable on Floor Than in Cot.

Cass Lake, Minn.—Captain John Smith, the aged Chippewa Indian chief, a well known character in this portion of Minnesota, who was struck and badly injured by a Great Northern locomotive in the yards here recently, has left the hospital and gone to the home of a son.

The venerable Indian, reputed to be 117 years old, making him by far the oldest man in Minnesota, if not in the United States, grew better from the very day he was carried in an unconscious condition to the hospital.

As soon as he collected his senses he declined to remain on a hospital cot and made the nurse fly up a bed for him on a blanket on the floor, where he found contentment. He also called for his pipe and tobacco and, because of his age, was humored. He smoked constantly and rapidly grew better, as it developed that while he had been bruised and shocked, he had not been seriously injured.

PROPOSE MARRIAGE TRUST.

Indiana Justices of the Peace May Get Together Upon Ceremonies.

Jeffersonville, Ind.—Some of the six justices of the peace of Jefferson, who fight among themselves for "marriage couples," are proposing a combination whereby all six would establish central marrying parlors and would pool and divide equally all their earnings.

The chief benefit would be the elimination of the "runners," with whom the justices now split their fees, which only in exceptional cases amount to more than $3. One result of the competition has been the cutting of fees. Many eloping couples now get married for $1. Secret weddings generally cost the elopers a little more, and a twenty-five dollar fee shows up once in awhile.

PAYS $2.50 DEBT IN 40 YEARS.

Son of Original Creditor Receives Money Order For $9.

Indianapolis.—Homer Taggart, a real estate man of South Bend, has received a letter with a postoffice money order in it calling for $9. More than forty years ago Mr. Taggart's father, long since dead, sold a second hand buggy to F. D. Algood, a country blacksmith, at Servia, Ind. A note was given in payment.

Part payment had been made on the small original sum. A balance of $2.50 remained unpaid. The note was later destroyed in a fire and the unpaid part was forgotten. Mr. Algood, now an old man, had just thought of the money and mailed the South Bend man $9, which is the unpaid part of the debt and the interest on it.

GENERAL CLEAN-UP WEEK IS PROCLAIMED BY MAYOR OSTER

Week After Next Set Apart for Most Thorough Scouring Ever Given the City, and Every Person In City Is Expected to Do Their Part to Beautify Homes and City Generally.

Mayor Oster has issued a proclamation setting aside the week of April 17th to April 22nd, inclusive as the annual clean-up time for the city, and during that week all citizens are asked to co-operate for a cleaner and more sanitary place in which to live.

In his proclamation Mayor Oster appeals to the pride of Washingtonians and urges the general co-operation to make surroundings more attractive generally, so that the city itself may be beautiful.

In urging a general clean-up, the Mayor also urges liberal use of paint and other forms of adding to the beauty of the homes and city, such as planting flowers, shrubs, giving more attention to lawns, and removing all unsightly objects.

The proclamation follows:

CLEAN-UP PROCLAMATION

Whereas—it is clearly the duty of all citizens of Washington to work together for the welfare of our fair City—for the health, happiness and prosperity of all, and,

Whereas—it has been customary to set apart a time when all citizens are expected to unite in an effort to remove

POSTOFFICE BOX OWNERS ARE WARNED

Postmaster Murry again cautions the persons having boxes at the post office to be careful to lock their boxes after taking out the mail.

Not a few persons, the postmaster says, are careless in only pushing the box door back sometimes not even latching it. Others push the box door shut, latch it, but neglect to move the dials of the combinations locking the box.

The result is that irresponsible parties who come and go at all hours of the day up until 9 o'clock in the evening, are able to open the boxes and extract the mail.

Some persons who neglect to take the precautions and lock their boxes have already suffered loss and inconvenience.

Postmaster Murry and his assistants are doing everything in their power to prevent loafing in the lobby of the postoffice and irresponsible persons lounging about in the lobby will be arrested. The local police have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for loafers and arrest anyone not having business in the lobby of the postoffice.

Tampering with the United States mail is a serious offense and anyone guilty will be given the limit of the law if apprehended.

Lock box owners can save themselves loss and annoyance by observing the admonition of the postoffice authorities and seeing to it that their box door is securely latched and locked.

NEWTON UNDERWOOD DRAWS SECOND $10.35

Newton Underwood, who recently was fined $10.35 for being intoxicated, but who never paid the fine was handed an additional $10.35 when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of intoxication preferred against him in Mayor's court.

A charge of disorderly conduct was not sustained, two witnesses declaring they had not noticed such offense.

Underwood was sent back to jail with the understanding that he would go to the Xenia workhouse unless the $20.70 was forthcoming in short order.

all refuse and rubbish from premises, streets and alleys, and to, insofar as possible, beautify the homes and the entire city, thereby making the homes more desirable, attractive and healthful and the city a more sanitary one and more in keeping with the high ideals of her citizens.

Therefore—I, John Oster, Jr., Mayor of the City of Washington, State of Ohio, do hereby designate, set apart and proclaim the week beginning April 17th and ending April 22nd, to be known and observed as "Clean-up Week," during which time all persons owning, renting, occupying or having control of any real property within the corporate limits of the said city, will be expected and are earnestly requested and urged to clean up said premises, streets, alleys and sidewalks in and near the same, by removing therefrom all rubbish, filth, waste or refuse matter and all garbage and unsightly objects whatsoever so as to place said premises and surroundings in a sanitary and attractive condition, also to be liberal in the use of paint and other forms of decorating and beautifying premises, which will contribute to the general attractiveness of the entire city.

MRS. JOHN TWAY DIES EARLY TODAY

Mrs. John Tway, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of the Yatesville neighborhood in Paint township, passed away at her home Saturday morning about two o'clock, after an illness covering a period of three or four years.

Mrs. Tway, who is survived by a husband and one daughter, Miss Lizzie Tway, was a sister of Mr. Solomon Salmon of this city and Mr. John Salmon, of Springfield.

All of her life had been spent in the Yatesville community where she has large family connections. Most of her life she resided on the old home farm. She was a member of Union Chapel M. E. church and a constant attendant.

Funeral services will be held at Union Chapel M. E. church at ten o'clock Monday morning, and interment will be made in the Tway lot at Bloomingburg cemetery.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Damon Baker are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son at the home of Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brakefield, Friday night. The little son has been named George W., for Mr. Baker's father, the late George W. Baker.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS GLEE CLUB

The High School Auditorium, Friday night held a splendid audience of music lovers, college enthusiasts and High school students, who gave unrestrained expression to their appreciation of the highly entertaining concert given by the Westleyan Glee Club.

The entire program, varied and new, was characterized by true college spirit and brought forth applause and repeated encores to an unusual extent.

The Glee Club was composed of a fine looking bunch of fellows, who responded amazingly to the demands of their forceful leader, Maynard Craig. The club showed itself a thoroughly dependable body of singers, with volume, good balance of parts and excellent finish.

The opening chorus, "Winter Song," was finely rendered and Gounod's "Praise Ye the Father," sung with splendid volume and expression, effective as a closing number prefacing the O. W. U. song.

The Varsity Quartet was good, the voices blending well and the Jubilee Songs, with guitar accompaniment, only rivaled as the hit of the evening by the popular music of the Instrumental Trio.

Decidedly, Mr. Phil Lyon was the "lion" of the hour. A natural born comedian as well as musician, he captivated his audience whether as tenor soloist or instrumentalist and the audience refused to let him go until repeated encores closed with the apropos song, "When War Breaks Out in Mexico," first sung at last year's concert.

The instrumental trio so struck the popular chord that they returned again and again to insistently repeat.

Mr. Charles Suppet, an extremely good accompanist, added a brilliant piano interpretation to Listz's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" and an exquisite little encore.

The reader, Russell K. McCurdy, entertained with one of O. Henry's delightfully humorous stories, "The Hand Book of Hymen."

The Varsity Quartet was composed of: First tenor, Harold Morse; second tenor, Phil Lyon; Baritone, Kenyon Vance; Bass, F. W. Forsythe, and the trio of Messrs. Vance Hills, Lyon, Prof. Guy C. McLean is instructor; Maynard Craig, leader.

Therefore—I, John Oster, Jr.,

Mayor of the City of Washington, State of Ohio, do hereby designate, set apart and proclaim the week beginning April 17th and ending April 22nd, to be known and observed as "Clean-up Week," during which time all persons owning, renting, occupying or having control of any real property within the corporate limits of the said city, will be expected and are earnestly requested and urged to clean up said premises, streets, alleys and sidewalks in and near the same, by removing therefrom all rubbish, filth, waste or refuse matter and all garbage and unsightly objects whatsoever so as to place said premises and surroundings in a sanitary and attractive condition, also to be liberal in the use of paint and other forms of decorating and beautifying premises, which will contribute to the general attractiveness of the entire city.

The last will of Mary J. Brown has been filed in Probate Court, and bears date of March 17, 1916. James Thompson and Frank Reynolds are witnesses to the document and George J. Gray is made executor of the will.

The document provides for the payment of all debts; gives the home farm of 47 acres and all household goods and effects to the husband, Daniel Brown, during his lifetime.

To a niece, Nettie Gray, and a sister-in-law, Martha Armatrout $1,000 each is given, to be paid by her nephew, Dana Fred Zimmerman.

At the death of the husband, the realty descends to the nephew, Dana Fred Zimmerman, for his lifetime. Fred Zimmerman is to erect, at the death of the testator's husband, a $200 monument over their graves.

If the husband dies before the nephew, the nephew is not to have active control of the farm until he is 35 years of age, and during the interval a trustee, to be appointed by the Probate Judge, is to look after the actual management of the estate. Provision is made against the farm being mortgaged by the nephew.

At nephew's death the property goes to his heirs, or should he leave no heirs, a trustee will be appointed and the estate divided among testator's relatives as provided by law.

PRESBYTERY IS TO MEET IN WILMINGTON

Rev. William Boynton Gage and delegates from the First Presbyterian church in this city will go to Wilmington, Tuesday of next week, for the meeting of the Chillicothe Presbytery at that place.

Speaking of the meeting the Wilmington Journal says:

"For the first time in several years the meeting of the Chillicothe Presbytery will be held with the local Presbyterian church. Next Monday and Tuesday, April 19 and 20. The Presbytery includes the churches of the surrounding counties, bearing the name of the largest city which it comprises. The plan of holding the meetings in the different towns and cities is followed, and the local church will receive the visiting church people in such a way that they will be glad when it is Wilmington's turn again, no doubt.

"Rev. Freeley Rohrer, pastor of the church at Greenfield, will act as Moderator of the Presbytery meeting and will preach the Moderator's sermon Monday afternoon. The Lord's Supper and the sacrament will follow the sermon.

"The meeting is largely one for the transaction of business and the forty delegates who will attend will put in two busy days. Monday evening will be devoted to missionary topics, the service to be conducted by Rev. Kaye. It is announced that perhaps, a stereopticon lecture may be given. Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock there will be devotional services. The public is cordially invited to all of the sessions of the Presbytery.

IMPORTANT MEETING MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Dr. Kellogg, of Broad Street M. E. church, of Columbus, addressed the Ministerial Association, convening at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. He made a splendid talk on "The Seed and the Soil."

An important feature of the session was the authorizing Y. M. C. A. Secretary, Walter Patton to telegraph the final decision in regard to the Bromley Evangelistic organization before Sunday, the date being held open until that date.

If the date now under consideration, late January and early February, be taken, the meeting here will precede the one to be held in Dayton.

Following the meeting the Association and guests, Dr. Kellogg and Rev. Mr. Parrish, representative of the Bromley tabernacle meetings, enjoyed lunch at the Arlington Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Maynard extended the hospitality of their home to ten of the O. W. U. Glee Club after the concert. The boys generously continued the concert program to the delight of their entertainers.

Miss Ella Baber, one of the leading local operators of the Ohio State Telephone Co., for a number of years, will be united in marriage to Mr. Wilfred Howson, of Dayton, at eight o'clock tonight by Rev. P. J. Hennessy.

The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Henry Sherritt and witnessed only by the family and intimate friends.

The public is generally invited and will be accorded a cordial welcome.

ASSESSORS REPORT MONDAY FOR DUTY

SPECIAL OFFICER

William Dyer, residing on Willard street, has been appointed one of the special officers to police the base ball grounds.

CIRCUS NOTES

At the request of our beautiful, but hair splitting Bearded Lady, we wish to correct an error which appeared in the bills—her name is Henrietta, not Loretta. Also, at her request, we deplore our hasty allusion to her handsome whiskers wherein we have designated them "alfalfa."

Since the program was first announced, another hair-raising feature has been secured—a genuine aeroplane flight—which will be staged in connection with the main show.

Bert Ellis has generously donated the use of his body for the delicate demonstration in Bloodless Surgery. We also wish to announce that we have been able to secure the services for this occasion of the eminent specialist, Dr. Walter D. Craig, who will have charge of the knife play.

We are indeed proud to inform the public that we have just signed contract papers with the world-renowned ringmaster, Dr. Neil B. Jones, who will supervise the performances in the grand arena.

Regular circus chairs are being installed in the spacious hippodrome with a view to accommodating at least 600 people for this performance alone.

Extensive preparations are going on along the Great White Way to entertain the mammoth crowds, and the privilege people have assured us that peanuts, cracker jack and lemonade will be obtainable on all parts of the grounds Monday night.

VILLA IS LOCATED AGAIN?

Bandit Still Pushing His Way Southward.

AMERICANS IN PURSUIT

Have Long Ago Cut Loose From Their Supply Base, Are Now South of Satevo and Have Little but Fresh Meat to Eat—County Extremely Rough but Well Watered. Attitude of the Carranzistas.

El Paso, April 8.—Francisco Villa was definitely located at La Boquilla in a code message received here from Torreon, Mexico. La Boquilla is fifty-five miles southeast of Satevo and about an equal distance north of Parral.

El Paso, Tex., April 8.—According to information received by Mexican Consul Andres Garcia and General George Bell, Jr., commander of the American border patrol at El Paso, Villa is pushing his way southward through Mexico. He is in the mountains south of Satevo, a town about midway between Chihuahua City and Parral.

The information came from General Luis Gutierrez, commanding the Carranza troops in Chihuahua, who reported that his forces on April 4 had engaged Villa's rear guard at Irene-guilas, a small place just across the San Pedro river from Satevo, and that two of the prisoners captured by the Carranzistas reported that Villa's personal command, reduced to 200 men, was less than a day ahead. Villa had left fifty men behind at Irene-guilas to protect his retreat. The Carranzistas killed ten of these and took two others prisoners. The other thirty-eight scattered to the hills in small boats.

Advices from General Gutierrez and also from American army sources, report the American army south of Satevo and pushing further south on the trail of Villa. The Americans have long ago cut loose from their supply base in the hard ride and have little to eat but fresh meat, except when they encounter American mining camps able to supply flour and bacon from their commissaries.

The advance guard of the American forces is still in command of Col. Dodd, closely followed by the command of Colonel Brown of the Fifth cavalry, who last week met and almost annihilated a Villa band in San Antonio canyon, near Ojo Calientes. Colonel Brown fought these Villistas near Bachiniva, but had to fall back to Cusi because of exhaustion of his supplies, it is explained. He was reinforced there by other cavalry escorting a provision train and again took the field, riding south after the Dodd command.

The country into which Villa has passed is extremely rough, but well watered and Americans acquainted with the region assert that there should be considerable pasture for horses at this time of the year. Many of the horses of the different commands have succumbed to the hardships of the grueling rides after the bandits, but the large number still serviceable is the subject of much comment from cavalrymen and frontiersmen alike.

Carranza troops, concentrated at and near the City of Chihuahua when it was feared that Villa might attempt to strike at the state capital, are now being moved southwest into the mountains after Villa, co-operating with the American forces, according to the advices to Consul Garcia.

So far as can be learned there is apparently no more friction between the American and Carranza forces than the day the Americans entered Mexico, and while the American column has penetrated over 400 miles into Mexico, the Carranza officials apparently are evidencing no alarm at the length of the stay of the Americans.

Columbus, April 8.—The state civil service commission has set Tuesday for the formal investigation of charges that George L. Stoughton, secretary of the state industrial commission, urged political activity upon a civil service employee and that a state factory inspector solicited political funds from a Cleveland industrial concern. Charles Follette and Judge W. H. Middleton of the attorney general's office will assist in the investigation. Employees of the Democratic state headquarters, who are said to have possession of a letter written by Stoughton, will be summoned. Stoughton expects to be present at the hearing without an attorney to represent him. He declares that he is not guilty of any violation of the law. Stoughton is not under civil service and the only charge is that he wrote a letter urging a civil service employee to activity in behalf of Governor Willis.

LITTLE ROUGH

(By American Press)

New York, April 8.—In an accounting filed of Frank L. Ferguson's stewardship of the tangled financial affairs of Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor to illustrious preachers in Plymouth church, Mr. Ferguson paints Dr. Hillis as "money-eager, a reckless plunger in coal and timber speculations, a deceiver of his friends," and finally as hopelessly involved in a mesh of financial deals and threatened with innumerable law suits.

Mr. Ferguson, in his voluminous accounting, aims to show that in the years he served Dr. Hillis, from May, 1910, to April, 1915, he was of great service to the preacher and was on the road to getting him out of debt when the two men quarreled.

In the years that Mr. Ferguson handled the preacher's business affairs he says that he reduced the latter's liabilities from $878,036 to $392,600, or by $575,430. Mr. Ferguson said he received from or on behalf of Dr. Hillis $1,018,537.47 and paid out $1,018,541.98, leaving $4.51 still due him.

This car is the result of a definite purpose to supply a definite need with definite finality.

It is built for the man whose purse cannot afford a big, expensive car—

For the man whose pride cannot afford an unsightly, little, uncomfortable car—

And it is a very definite success.

Beauty is not necessarily a matter of size.

Neither does size altogether control comfort.

But skill, experience and facilities are required to build a small, beautiful, comfortable, economical car.

In a word, it required Overland organization.

And here is the small, light car—complete to the last detail.

Its performance is on a par with its beauty, comfort and completeness.

And its price—$615—is far below any former price for any completely equipped automobile—regardless of appearance or comfort considerations.

A glance at the car impresses you immediately with its beauty and finish.

As you look it over and read its specifications, you realize its absolute completeness.

But you must ride in it to appreciate its comfort.

You must drive it to get the thrill its performance will give you.

You can own one of these cars.

But act promptly—for no car was ever in such demand.

In spite of record productions and advancing prices, there is a shortage of cars.

The demand naturally centers on top class at bottom price—this small light car.

And no other car at anywhere near its price can compare with this one for beauty, performance, comfort, completeness and economy.

The GIRL and the GAME

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

AUTHOR OF "WHISPERING SMITH," "THE MOUNTAIN DIVIDE," "STRATEGY OF GREAT RAILROADS," ETC.

NOVELIZED FROM THE MOVING PICTURE PLAY OF THE SAME NAME. PRODUCED BY THE SIGNAL FILM CORPORATION. COPYRIGHT, 1915, BY FRANK H. SPEARMAN

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scenic railroad by General Seagruer, who is Mrs. Bowser's lover. Helen saves Storm, a fireman, her father, and his friends Amos Rhinelander, financier, and Robert Seagruer, promoter, from a threatened collision. Safebreakers employed by Seagruer steal General Holmes' survey plans of the cut off line for the Tidewater, fatally wound the general and escape. Her father's estate is badly involved by his death. Helen goes to work on the Arden. She helps to save the survey plans from Seagruer, and though they are taken from her, finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm is employed by Rhinelander. Spike, befriended by Helen, in his turn saves her and the right-of-way contracts when Seagruer kidnaps her. Helen and Storm win for Rhinelander a race against Seagruer for right of way.

In the dispatchers' office the chief was sitting at his desk and a dispatcher was on his trick at the instrument. He answered Arden instantly, took the startling message, walked hurriedly over to the chief and handed it to him:

H. C. W. Runaway car from cut-off on main line. Stop passenger at Baird.—L.

The dispatcher sprang to his train sheets and back with them to the chief who dictated the only possible answer:

It was too late to avoid a collision. They could only await the issue.

With Arden station left far behind, Helen, making the utmost possible speed in Seagruer's machine, scanned the track ahead for a glimpse of the wild car. Resolved at any cost to overtake it, she was running the machine on the right of way and on the track itself in her determined effort. When she caught sight of the runaway, no one was to be seen upon it, but she knew Rhinelander and Storm were inside and as she began to overtake the chase, she sounded her horn insistently. The two men, leaving Spike, who in the face of the common danger had pulled himself partly together, looked out of the side door. To their amazement they saw at their heels Helen bumping violently along in Seagruer's machine. She signaled them excitedly. She tried to shout to them but could not make a word heard above the deafening noise. Rhinelander and Storm did make out, however, that she wanted them to go to the top of the car and the two men climbed the side ladder again.

Helen, still close behind, scribbled a note, folded it hurriedly, took off a shoe, stuck the note inside and with

Bowser's Quiet Evening

By M. QUAD

MRS. BOWSER had a presentiment the other day that Mr. Bowser would come home to dinner ready to raise a row about something, but her anxiety was dispelled the moment she caught a glimpse of his face as he entered the hall. It was as calm and placid as a June morning. At dinner he continued calm and placid.

Mr. Bowser's usual habit is to smoke a cigar and read the evening paper after dinner. On this occasion he followed his usual custom, and Mrs. Bowser sat down to a book, and he fell into a doze.

By and by, as Mrs. Bowser read on, there came a ring at the doorbell. Mr. Bowser uttered a sleepy grunt, but was not aroused. She opened the door to find a horse looking man standing there.

"Is Mr. Bowser home?" he asked curtly.

"No," she fibbed. "What did you want?"

"I saw him about a horse this afternoon, and he was to come up to the corner this evening and take a look at him. He said if the animal pleased him he would buy him and pay my price for him. It's mighty singular that he should go off somewhere else after giving his word to me!"

His personal appearance and language angered Mrs. Bowser, and she replied: "Mr. Bowser wants no horse. You can't sell him one and therefore need not waste your valuable time. I run this house, and no horse is wanted."

The man with the horse to sell grudgingly backed off, and Mrs. Bowser returned to her book. Mr. Bowser had slept on, and his sleep had grown deeper. About twenty minutes after the first caller a second arrived, and the door was opened upon a big tramp, who said:

"I was here one night two weeks ago. It was a short, bald headed man who talked to me. I asked him for a quarter to get a night's lodging, and he replied that he hadn't a cent in change. He would gladly have given me a quarter if he had it, but the best he could do was to tell me to call again in about two weeks. It is just two weeks, ma'am, and can I see the gentleman?"

"You can't!" was the emphatic reply.

"Then perhaps," continued the tramp, "you will gladly pay his debt. It is a debt of honor, made by one gentleman to another gentleman. One gentleman expects another gentleman to square up."

"Then—then I can't see the short, bald headed man?"

"You may meet him on the street tomorrow."

"Just so, ma'am—just so. And if I do I will tell him that he is no gentleman."

Mrs. Bowser was softly laughing to herself as she returned a second time. There were no signs that Mr. Bowser had awakened during her absence. It was a quarter to 9 when the next ring came. This time she opened the door to a sleek, slick looking man, who lifted his plug hat with a smile and explained: "I called to see your husband."

"YOU SEEM TO BE A GOOD WALKER."

"Then you'll have to call again," she replied.

"I don't think I could call any other evening," he continued. "The matter is this, and perhaps you can attend to it yourself. You are Mrs. Bowser, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"When your husband got off the car two hours ago a greenback dropped from his pocket, and I picked it up and walked along. It is a ten dollar bill, Mrs. Bowser, and my conscience has so troubled me that I have come here to restore it. I have a sick wife at home, and she is in great need of food and medicine. This bill will buy all of them, but when I went home full of joy and told her how I acquired it she said I must return it. So here I am, and here's the bill."

Mrs. Bowser took the bill and scanned it. It needed but one glance to tell her that it was a Confederate ten dollar bill, and she turned to the man with:

"And what do you expect for your honesty, sir?"

"Why—why," he stammered, "I thought, being as I had a sick wife who needs comforts, that you might be moved to hand me over $2 or $3 and thus relieve my great anxiety. I don't put it on the ground of my honesty, but because of my sick wife."

Mrs. Bowser did not return the bill. With it clenched in her fingers she brushed past him out on the steps and said:

"You seem to be a good walker. Let me see if you can disappear around the corner before that policeman up there reaches our gate. You are such an honest man that I should hate to see him arrest you. Your sick wife might die before you got out of jail."

The sleek, slick man was a man of good manners. He lifted his hat and bowed and remarked that it was a pleasant evening, and he walked away so fast that he almost left the policeman at the post. A long hour passed away, and then Mr. Bowser and the cat woke up. Both yawned and stretched, and both rubbed their eyes, and Mr. Bowser said:

"Durned if I don't believe I was asleep. Has anything happened?"

"Nothing has happened, Mr. Bowser—noting at all," replied Mrs. Bowser as she looked at that Confederate bill and wondered what Mr. Bowser would have done had he been in her place.

ATTRIBUTES HER LONG LIFE TO SWEET DIET

Woman, Ninety, Begins Meals With Dessert.

Melrose, Mass.—Mrs. James Rodie celebrated her ninetieth birthday anniversary several days ago. She is in excellent health and attributes this fact to an astonishing diet that consists largely of chocolates, puddings, fruits and other sweetmeats.

Mrs. Rodie was personally conducting the frying of a batch of five dozen doughnuts when the reporter called at her home. While in conversation with him she ate several hot doughnuts, and upon being asked if she was troubled with indigestion she replied that she had relished dainty foods more in her old age than when she was young.

She is known as the "spry old lady of Melrose," and every morning during good weather she takes a walk of two miles or more just for a "little exercise," as she terms it. Mrs. Rodie is a zealous worker and exhibited for the reporter's benefit over twenty-five fancy woven knit table pieces that she had completed since last fall. She also assists her daughter-in-law, with whom she lives, in the general housework, and twice a week she dusts all the furniture in the house.

Mrs. Rodie has an excellent appetite. Every morning she has cake and coffee for breakfast, sometimes eating a little oatmeal. Her daughter-in-law told the reporter that Mrs. Rodie always eats her dessert first and that if she is hungry she will eat a little meat. She eats on the average a box of chocolates a week.

Mrs. Rodie is a fresh air enthusiast and has not slept in a room with any of the windows closed for over sixty years. She is also a firm follower of the "early to bed and early to rise" rule, for she retires every evening at 7 o'clock and is up bright and early at 6 o'clock the next morning.

will be plowed up and the fields put to other crops.

The condition of corn in crib is estimated at 86 per cent compared with an average. The crop was in poor condition for cribbing, owing to continued wet weather. During winter the unhusked corn suffered damage to the extent of 20 per cent.

The backward season has made it impossible to accurately estimate fruit prospect compared with a normal yield; prospect is estimated at 71 per cent. Reports of damage refer almost wholly to peach crop.

The present season is very backward. Plowing and spring work retarded by the unfavorable weather conditions.

Live stock wintered well.

NEW EQUIPMENT

FOR THE B. & O. R. R.

The Baltimore & Ohio has just put into service new all-steel Coaches, Cafe Cars and Pullman Drawing Room Parlor Cars for day service in both direction between Cincinnati, Columbus, Wheeling and Pittsburgh.

The Coaches are 70 feet long with a seating capacity for 80 people. Interior is mahogany finish. Floors are composed of sanitary water-proof cement with cushioned rubber aisle strip, permitting thorough flushing and cleaning.

A new type of sanitary drinking fountain is provided, filtered water being supplied without coming in contact with the ice.

Cafe Cars are of the same length as coaches and Dining Room has a seating capacity for 18 people. Decorations and conveniences are similar to those provided in coaches. Provision is made for a dining service of the highest standard.

The Pullman Parlor cars have luxurious drawing rooms, smoking compartment and 26 comfortable revolving chairs.

All cars are equipped with the "Dean" anti-telescoping strengthening device, electric lighted throughout and have the new electric suction ventilating system.

WITHDRAW TROOPS

of troops now operating in Mexico are provided, the maintenance of the present line of communication could be maintained, but unless the punitive force is increased to that extent, many of the officers here regard it as imperative that a new short line be established.

SEEMS REASONABLE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

El Paso, Texas, April 8.—Information from Mexican sources today said that Francisco Villa had reached the environs of Parral and had sent emissaries into the town to test the spirit of the garrison, and also to obtain provisions.

No verification of the report was possible, but the fact that the bandit was reliably reported to have been only 50 miles from Parral two days ago gave color to the story.

DENIAL EXPECTED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 8.—Official denial of persistent reports that the de facto government of Mexico had asked withdrawal of the American troops was expected here today, to set at rest all such rumors.

PRETTY FINE FOR "ELsie"

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Toledo, April 8.—Miss Elsie Beck, 25, Toledo girl, a nurse in training at a local hospital with but a few weeks study before her graduation, is sole heiress to a fortune of $300,000 in London, according to a letter received yesterday from a New York attorney.

The legacy comes from Biss Beck's aunt, Miss Lena Capman, of London, who died recently.

LANDS VALUE ARE SOARING

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, April 8.—Farm land values are increasing almost by leaps and bounds.

Figures made public today by the Department of Agriculture show that values for the United States, taken as a whole, increased 25.7 per cent in the past four years and 11.5 per cent last year.

The exceptional increases of last year are attributed to the reaction in the south, following last year's temporary depression, and to the stimulus of war prices, particularly of grain.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR WOMEN IN OHIO FACTORIES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., April 8.—Women factory workers are in unprecedented demand in Ohio. George H. Hamilton chief inspector of workshops and factories has reported to the state industrial commission. War munition factories, particularly at Dayton, Cleveland and Toledo have been soliciting women in other cities but have been unable to secure as many as are needed. It is said. One big difficulty in obtaining women workers, it is pointed out, is that women dislike to move to another community to work.

The extraordinary demand for women has caused many factory proprietors to petition the department of workshops and factories for leniency in laws regulating the working hours of women. Without exception, these requests have been refused. Mr. Hamilton reported in one case, both the employer and a number of girl workers joined in asking that they be allowed to work one extra hour a day. This, it was reported, has been true especially of potteries in Eastern Ohio and the Muskingum valley district.

Wages paid women have not increased to any great extent as a result of the greater demand, Mr. Hamilton reported. Potteries and rubber factories now pay probably the highest wages of any class of industrial establishments in the state, he said.

MILK WAR IS ENDED

(Associated Press Cable)

Chicago, April 8.—The milk war between the producers in the Chicago district and the distributors in Chicago is practically at an end today.

But one of the distributors, the Borden Condensed Milk Company, has not signed an agreement with the producers to buy milk at the new price, an increase of 22 cents a hundred over the old price.

Assistant United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe has announced he will start an investigation to determine whether either the Milk Producers Association or the distributors have violated the Sherman anti-trust law as applied to inter-state commerce, by attempting to fix prices.

OHIO USING MANY DRUGS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., April 8.—Habitual drug users in Ohio consume annually 18,498 pounds of opium and 47,171 pounds of coca leaves from which cocaine is made, according to an estimate of State Drug Inspector E. W. Harrington reported to Thomas C. Calvert, chief of the dairy and food division. Four times as much is used for illegitimate as for medicinal purposes. The number of doses of these habit forming drugs imported into Ohio annually for wrong uses is estimated at 2,308,700,000.

Inspector Harrington cites the recent declaration of a prominent physician that the drug habit is practiced by one in every 22 adult citizens, one physician in five one dentist in six, and one druggist in seven. He urges that the state establish a sanitarium to treat victims of the drug habit who cannot afford to go to a private institution.

Figures made public today by the Department of Agriculture show that values for the United States, taken as a whole, increased 25.7 per cent in the past four years and 11.5 per cent last year.

The exceptional increases of last year are attributed to the reaction in the south, following last year's temporary depression, and to the stimulus of war prices, particularly of grain.
